Brewster's Millions

Copyright, 1904, by Herbert S. Stone & Company

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON
(RICHARD GREAVES)

Somewhere they had come with the expectation of being bored. Curiosity prompted them to accept, but it did not prevent the subsequent inevitable lassitude. Socially Monty Brewster had yet to make himself felt. He and his dinner were something to talk about, but they were accepted hesitatingly, haltingly. People wondered how he had secured the co-operation of Mrs. Dan, but then Mrs. Dan always did go in for a new toy. To her was inevitably attributed whatever success the dinner achieved, and it was no small measure. Yet there was nothing startling about the affair. Monty had decided to begin conservatively. He did the conventional thing, but he did it well. He added a touch or two of luxury, the faintest aroma of splendor, Pettegill had designed the curiously wayward table, with its comfortable atmosphere of companionship, and arranged its decoration of great lavender orchids and lacy butterfly festoons of white ones touched with yellow. He had wanted to use dahlia in their many rich shades, from pale yellow to orange and deep red, but Monty held out for orchids. It was the artist, too, who had found in a rare and happy moment the massive gold candelabra--ancient things of a more luxurious age and their opalescent shades. Against his advice the service, too, was of gold--"rank vulgarly," he called it, with its rich meaningless ornamentation. But here Monty was obdurate. He insisted that he liked the color and that porcelain had no character. Mrs. Dan only prevented a quarrel by suggesting that several courses should be served upon Sevres.

Pettegill's scheme for lighting the room was particularly happy. For the benefit of his walls and the four lovely Monets which Monty had purchased at his instigation he had designed a ceiling screen of heavy rich glass in tones of white that grew into yellow and dull green. It served to conceal the lights in the daytime, and at night the glare of electricity was immensely softened and made harmonious by passing through it. It gave a note of quiet to the picture which caused even these men and women, who had been here and there and seen many things, to draw in their breath sharply. Altogether the effect manifestly made an impression.

Such an environment had its influence upon the company. It went far toward making the dinner a success. From far in the distance came the softened strains of Hungarian music, and never had the little band played the "Valse Annonce" and the "Valse Bleue" with the spirit it put into them that night. Yet the soft clamor in the dining room insistently ignored the emotion of the music. Monty, bored as he was between the two most important downers at the feast, wondered dimly what invisible part it played in making things go. He had a vagrant fancy that without it there would have been no zest for talk, no noisy competition to overcome, no hurdles to leap. As it was, the talk certainly went well, and Mrs. Dan inspected the result of her work from time to time with smiling satisfaction. From across the table she heard Colonel Drew's voice: "Brewster evidently objects to a long siege. He is planning to carry us by assault."

Mrs. Dan turned to Subway Smith, who was at her right--the latest addition to her menagerie. "What is this friend of yours?" she asked. "I have never seen such complex simple, aren't they?" And Monty's eyes lighted up at the thought of new possibilities.

"I convinced them, sir, as how they were getting good pay as it is, sir, and that they ought to be satisfied. They'd be a long time finding a better place and as good wages. They haven't been with you a week, and here they are striking for more pay. Really, sir, these American servants--"

"Rawles, that'll do!" exploded Monty. The butler's chin went up, and his cheeks grew redder than ever.

"I beg pardon, sir," he gasped, with a respectful but injured air. "Rawles, you will kindly not interfere in such matters again. It is not only the privilege but the duty of every American to strike for higher pay whenever he feels like it, and I want it distinctly understood that I am heartily in favor of their attitude. You will kindly go back and tell them that after a reasonable length of service their wages--I mean wages--shall be increased. And don't meddle again, Rawles."

Late that afternoon Brewster dropped in at Mrs. DeMille's to talk over plans for the next dinner. He realized that in no other way could he squander his money with a better chance of getting its worth than by throwing himself boldly into society. It went easily, and there could be only one asset arising from it in the end--his own sense of disgust.

"So glad to see you, Monty," greeted Mrs. Dan glowingly, coming in with a rush. "Come upstairs and I'll give you some tea and a cigarette. I'm not at home to anybody."

"That's very good of you, Mrs. Dan," said he as they mounted the stairs. "I don't know what I'd do without your help." He was thinking how pretty she was.

"You'd be richer, at any rate," turning to smile upon him from the upper landing. "I was in tears half the night, Monty, over that glass screen," she said after finding a comfortable place among the cushions of a divan. Brewster dropped into a roomy, lazy chair in front of her as he responded carelessly.

"It amounted to nothing. Of course it was very annoying that it should happen while the guests were still there." Then he added gravely: "In strict confidence, I had planned to have it fall just as we were pushing back our chairs, but the confounded thing disappointed me. That's the trouble with these automatic climaxes--they usually hang fire. It was to have been a sort of fall of Babylon effect, you know."

The butler's chin went up.

"Splendid! But, like Babylon, it fell at the wrong time."

For a lively quarter of an hour they discussed people about town, liberally approving the slandered and denouncing the slanderers. A still busier quarter of an hour ensued when together they made up the list of dinner guests. He moved a little writing table up to the divan, and she looked on eagerly while he wrote down the names she suggested after many puckering of her face, aristocratic brow, and then drew lines through them when she changed her mind. Mrs. Dan DeMille handled her people without gloves in making up Monty's lists. The dinners were not hers, and she could afford to do as she pleased with his. He was broad and tall and she was not slow to see that he was indifferent. He did not care who the guests were or how they came; he merely wished to make sure of their presence. His only blunder was the rather diffident recommendation that Barbara Drew be asked again. If he observed that Mrs. Dan's head sank a little closer to the paper, he attached no importance to the movement. He could not see that her eyes grew narrow, and he paid no attention to the little catch in her breath.

"Wouldn't that be a little--just a little pronounced?" she asked, lightly enough.

"You mean--that people might talk?" "She might feel conspicuously present."

"Do you think so? We are such good friends, you know."

"Of course if you'd like to have her," slowly and doubtfully, "why, put her name down. But you evidently haven't seen that." Mrs. Dan pointed to a copy of the Trumpet which lay on the table.

When he had handed her the paper she said, "The Censor is growing facetious at your expense."

"I am getting on in society with a vengeance if that ass starts in to write about me. Listen to this"--she had pointed out to him the obnoxious paragraph: "If Brewster drew a diamond flush do you suppose he'd catch the queen? And if he caught her how long do you think she'd remain Drew? Or if she Drew Brewster would she be

"You saw they were going to ask will to learn such a game as Monte?"

The next morning a writer who signed himself The Censor got a thrashing, and one Montgomery Brewster had his name in the papers, surrounded by fulsome words of praise.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

Senator Hemenway Meets Party Leaders at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, July 13.--Senator Jas. A. Hemenway was here today for the first time in several weeks. He was occupying his former headquarters at the Claypool hotel from which he conducted his brilliant campaign last winter to succeed Mr. Fairbanks. Senator Hemenway went to Alaska after the opening of the Lewis-Clark exposition, and but recently returned to his home at Booneville. He says he had a splendid trip and looks much invigorated. He is planning to leave for a two weeks' trip to Mackinac Island, beginning July 18. It is understood that H. C. Starr of Richmond will accompany him. After his return to Indiana he will go to Washington and New York, to be gone several weeks. His headquarters were filled last night and today with party leaders and his personal friends who called to pay their respects.

Governor Hanly has emphatically outlined his policy as to fixing assessments. He declared that he is opposed to fixing them solely on the basis of gross earnings. "In my consideration," he continued, "I will take into account the gross earnings, net earnings, operating expenses, betterments and physical equipments, and no one of these factors." Without mincing words Governor Hanly informed Dr. J. R. Norton and other railroad attorneys that it was unnecessary for them to take up the time of the state board of tax commissioners with statements to the effect that they took it for granted the board would treat them fairly in the matter of fixing assessments. Dr. Norton represented the Baltimore & Ohio system as tax agent. At the conclusion of his request that the board permit the assessment to remain the same as last year, he expressed the opinion that all the railroads will be treated fairly by the board. "I therefore think our road will be treated fairly in the matter of assessments. I do not think--" At this juncture the governor interrupted him with a brisk statement that it was not necessary to take up the time of the board with such statements. "I take it that all members of this board are inclined toward fairness," he concluded. Dr. Norton agreed with him, but a painful silence followed the exchange. It is not known whether or not the governor is aware of the talk that the board with him at the head will raise the assessment on practically all the roads. Most of the tax agents have simply asked that their roads be left alone.

Governor Hanly is trying to stop another leak in the public funds. As president of the board of state charities he has written to the auditors of twenty-four counties calling attention to the fact that township trustees and county commissioners are violating the law relative to the handling of funds for the relief of the outdoor poor. The county commissioners in these counties are allowing the trustees to handle the money directly, as they do other funds, whereas the law provides that the money should be regularly appropriated and expended under the supervision of the board. The law provides that at the beginning of the year the commissioners shall appropriate a certain fund for relief of the poor, which is to be drawn on by their order. In September a tax is levied by the commissioners to reimburse the county for the money expended in this manner. The county is to be reimbursed at the December settlement, but many trustees have been using the funds that the counties should have received at the December settlement. The absolute control of funds given the trustees by this method has resulted in a too free expenditure of money, which the governor hopes to check.

TOO MUCH FOR HIM

Russian Criticism Forces M. Muraviev Off Peace Mission.

GIVES UP GRACEFULLY

Minister of Justice Recognizes That His Diplomatic Qualifications Are Too Limited.

In Being Forced to Accept Witte Instead the Czar Swallows Bitter Pill.

St. Petersburg, July 13.--M. Muraviev has resigned his position as chief peace plenipotentiary. It may be regarded as practically certain that he will be replaced by M. Witte, president of the committee of ministers, who all along has been considered the Russian statesman pre-eminently qualified to undertake the difficult task of negotiating peace with Japan.

Though the emperor on two previous occasions has flatly declined to accept M. Witte, he has now indicated his readiness to make the appointment. The commission, however, will not be actually signed until Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, who throughout has been M. Witte's warm supporter, has had an audience of the emperor today.

To that extent only the matter may be regarded as unsettled, nothing being certain in Russia, as a diplomat remarked last night, until the emperor's signature has been affixed. M. Witte's election will undoubtedly be hailed as a practical assurance of peace. While it would be a mistake to denigrate him as a "peace at any price" man, M. Witte earnestly believes that the struggle should be ended and should be succeeded by an understanding between Russia and Japan, which would insure peace in the far East for half a century. Indeed, he is personally believed to be in favor of a Russo-Japanese alliance.

The conduct of negotiations by M. Witte, it is felt by the peace party here, would inspire instant confidence in Japan. The only handicap under which M. Witte labors is his lack of familiarity with the English language, as the only foreign languages he speaks are German and French.

M. Muraviev's retirement, ostensibly owing to reasons of ill health, is in reality due to the fact that the emperor became convinced that the negotiations might be jeopardized if he went to Washington. M. Muraviev himself, upon consideration, quite frankly recognized his lack of diplomatic training and his want of acquaintance with the question involved and with equal frankness expressed satisfaction that he had been relieved.

Neither the Washington nor Tokyo governments has yet been officially advised of M. Muraviev's withdrawal, the foreign office probably preferring to announce the name of his successor at the same time. The change in the chief of the plenipotentiary does not involve any postponement of the date of sailing of the peace mission for Washington.

Hailed as Hopeful Sign.

London, July 13.--The Daily Telegraph in an editorial hails the probable appointment of M. Witte as the best omen of peace it has been its privilege to chronicle, and considers that Japan will welcome it as a proof of Russia's serious desire for a cessation of the war. The editorial further declares that the moderation of the Japanese demands will astonish the world. It adds that since M. Witte knows that a cessation of the war is imperative for Russia, there is every prospect of a lasting and durable peace, "leaving only commercial rivalry in an open field for the supremacy of trade in the far East."

FOR A NEW NAVY

Admiral Birleff Charged With This Mission by Czar.

St. Petersburg, July 13.--The announcement of the appointment of Vice Admiral Birleff as minister of marine in succession to Admiral Avellan, gazetted this morning, is coupled with a highly significant rescript in which the emperor charges the new minister not only with the task of rebuilding the navy, but also with that of reforming and reorganizing the whole system. The minister is instructed to eradicate the faults which have developed under the stress of war, to remedy the conditions which led to the recent mutinies in the Black Sea, and to inspire the personnel of the navy with a new spirit of discipline and devotion.

ACCOUNTING DEMANDED

The Other Side of Charges Made Against Harvester Company.

Chicago, July 13.--Proceedings have been commenced by the International Harvester company against Rodney B. Swift, who recently filed suits charging the corporation with obtaining rebates from railroads and in various ways exceeding the corporate authority.

The suit filed by the harvester company is in the form of a bill in equity and accuses Swift of making false representations to the company while employed by it, concerning its rights in connection with certain patents. It is also alleged in the bill that Swift appropriated to his own use money and securities to the amount of $25,000 which, the bill alleges, should have rightfully been turned over to the company. The court is asked to order that Swift turn over to the company the $25,000 he is alleged to have wrongfully appropriated.

GOOD WORD FOR DOCTORS

The President Encourages His Hearers in Sanitary Work.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 13.--President Roosevelt delivered a notable address before the Associated Physicians of Long Island. He discussed in the course of his speech the relations physicians sustain with the people of the communities in which they reside and the work to be done by the medical experts in connection with the construction of the Panama canal, declaring that despite all difficulties on the isthmus and here in the United States, the canal would be a success. He referred to achievements of the sanitary engineers who cleaned the cities of Cuba for the first time in 400 years.

The Evidence Accumulates.

Portland, Ore., July 13.--A mass of documentary evidence has been introduced in the trial of Congressman Williamson and Messrs. Biggs and VanGessner, charged with complicity in the Oregon land frauds. Correspondence between Biggs, as United States commissioner at Prineville and Jay P. Lucas, then cashier of the Dallas land office, showed that Biggs had sent in all the applications of the timber entrymen; that he asked to have the final receipts all sent to him and that VanGessner had written the checks which were enclosed in payment for various entries on final proof, these checks aggregating over $4,000.

Victims of Collision.

New York, July 13.--Three lives were lost by the sinking of the steam yacht Normandie, which was run down in the Hudson river off Debus Ferry by the Norwegian tramp steamer Volund. Those who perished were Miss Gladys D. Dodge of New York, a guest aboard the yacht; the captain, William Storm of Hyde Park, N. Y., and the engineer, Stewart Gracie of Brooklyn. Their bodies were not recovered.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The next Elks convention will be held in Denver, Col.

The general synod of the Lutheran church is in session at St. Louis.

The battleship Vermont will be launched at the shipyards at Quincy, Mass., Aug. 31.

Mrs. Ellen Johnson, aged seventy-one, mother of Tom Johnson, mayor of Cleveland, O., is dead.

Two people are dead and several are seriously injured as a result of a gas explosion in a dwelling house at Pittsburgh.

The thirty-first annual convention of the American Bankers' association will be held at Washington Oct. 11, 12 and 13.

The emperor himself is the largest land owner in Russia, owning more land than all the peasants of European Russia, and over 350 palaces.

News has been received of the drowning of over 500 Chinese as a result of the collapse of an overcrowded mat shed on the banks of the West river, near Canton.

The captain and twelve members of the crew of a Honduras coasting trader were slain by a negro sailor, who scuttled the vessel and escaped with the contents of the strong-box.

MYSTERY GROWING

Clay County Authorities Perplexed Over Cardwell Assassination.

THE WIDOW DEPARTS

Immediately Following the Funeral Mrs. Cardwell and Her Family and Cardwells Brothers Leave.

Prosecution Fears That in This Departure It Loses Its Chief Witness.

Brazil, Ind., July 13.--New mystery has been added to the Cardwell murder case by the disappearance of Mrs. Cardwell immediately after the funeral of Ralston Cardwell, the murdered man. He was buried at Gold Knob, and Mrs. Cardwell and children, with seven brothers of Cardwell, boarded a southbound train, ostensibly for Louisville, Ky.

The disappearance of Mrs. Cardwell will be a severe blow to the state, as it was on her confession that Jesse Sluder was arrested for the murder.

Citizens of Gold Knob believe that authorities will be unable to find her, and think she has fled to avoid being implicated.

This has lent strength to the belief that Sluder is not the murderer.

A DISCREET SPENDER

No One Knows What Banker Bowman Did With Money.

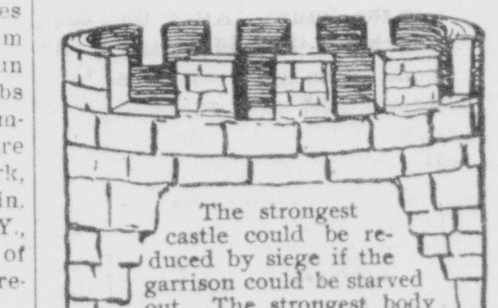

Hagerstown, Ind., July 13.--Information is to the effect that the value of the bonds and securities which it is alleged were taken from the safe of the Commercial Bank by John Bowman, the cashier, who recently committed suicide, will far exceed the estimates first made. Many persons who were not known to have valuables on deposit are appearing and many others who suffered loss have not made it known. An interesting development today is that the bank had no capital stock. No account was taken of this item in the list of assets. It is probable in the distribution of the assets a legal question is involved. There is absolutely no clue as yet as to what Bowman did with the missing money. It has been found that some bond deals were made at Cambridge City.

Family Driven From Home.

Vincennes, Ind., July 13.--Isadore Hayes and his entire family of five were driven from their home by Chas. Richardson, who, with an ax, battered down the door and threatened to kill the whole family. They fled to a cornfield, where they remained all night, fearing to return to their house. Richardson declared he would go home, get a gun and return and finish the job. Hayes came to this city and asked for police protection. He also armed himself with a gun and said he would defend himself. He lives two miles west of the city.

Farmer's Desperate Situation.

Wabash, Ind., July 13.--Samuel H. Rager of Pleasant township is in a critical condition as a result of having been terribly gored by a mad bull belonging to him. Mr. Rager went into the field where the animal was at large and was attacked by the animal, which rolled him around on the ground until he lost consciousness. The brute then walked away. The family, missing Mr. Rager, went in search of him, and found him as stated. He is yet unconscious and it is feared he may not recover.

The strongest castle could be reduced by siege if the garrison could be starved out. The strongest body has to give up the fight when starvation weakens it. There are more deaths from starvation than the world dreams of. When the stomach is diseased and the food eaten is not digested and assimilated, then the strength of the body begins to fail because of lack of nutrition, and the weak body falls an easy victim to the microbes of disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores physical strength in the only possible way, by enabling the assimilation of the nutrition contained in food.

"I was sick for over three years with a complication of stomach troubles," writes Mr. John H. Catron, residing at 222 Arch St., Chicago, Illinois. "I had tried every good physician I knew of, as well as many patent medicines, but received only temporary relief. One day a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I immediately procured some and began its use. Commenced to gain the first week, and after I had taken only one bottle I could eat as well as any one without experiencing ill effects. I took five bottles, and today am happy to announce that I am as well and healthy as any one could be. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains. You lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send twenty-one one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or thirty-one stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

RIGHT now we predict that a great victory awaits Chas. A. Bookwalter, the nominee for mayor of Indianapolis, in November. He is a capable man and the Republicans of Indianapolis will do their duty by electing him by a big majority.

GOVERNOR HANLY asks some pertinent questions of the railroad attorneys who appear before the tax board and plead for lower assessments. The Governor has a fund of information that will stand him in hand during the session of the state tax board.

THE Indianapolis base ball club lost again yesterday, a record they make about every day. That aggregation is not composed of Hoosiers. Native Indiana ball players are in the habit of winning often.

COLUMBUS has had an expert to look into their water situation in the hope that he will be able to hit upon some plan whereby the people there can get wholesome water. The water supplied now is wet and suitable for sprinkling purposes but is not recommended for anything else by those who have examined it closely.

It is all right to teach the science of agriculture in the rural schools as so many are advocating now. But would it not be amusing to hear a young lady school teacher from the city, and many of them have never lived in the country at all, endeavor to teach the farmer boys how to farm? Every one of them could instruct her in that branch of learning. She would know more about farming at the end of the term than when she began but the knowledge she would impart to the farmer boys about planting and harvesting crops would not count for much.

MARRIED.

KAHN-SCHPEMAN.

At eight o'clock Wednesday evening, July 12, Mr. Henry Kahn, of Indianapolis, was united in marriage to Miss Sophia Schepman, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schepman, who reside on South Poplar Street. The wedding ceremony was performed in the German Lutheran church by Rev. Phillip Schmidt. Ephraim Ahlbrandt Jr., and Ed Schmidt acted as ushers to the large number of friends who had come to witness the ceremony.

Fred Casper and Miss Alice Oesting acted as groomsmen and bridesmaid, while Miss Amelia Schepman, sister of the bride, was the pretty maid-of-honor. The bride was charming in a beautiful white dress and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and ferns. Miss Oesting and Miss Amelia Schepman carried shower bouquets of pink sweet peas and smilax. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion. The wedding march was played by Prof. Albert Wilde.

Miss Schepman was employed at Indianapolis a few years ago, but for some time past she has been living at home with her parents. She is an excellent young lady, held in the very highest estimation by her congratulating friends. Mr. Kahn is a man of high character and is at present a teacher in Rev. Biederman's church at Indianapolis, where they will make their home in the future. After the wedding at the church the bridal party went to the home of the bride where a large number of guests were gathered and an excellent wedding supper was enjoyed, all expressing their best wishes for the bright future of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kahn.

DIED.

HEIN.—Mrs. Hein, mother of John Hein, died at her home near the county line east of Beech Grove, Wednesday forenoon about 10 o'clock. She was about 65 years of age and had lived many years in that vicinity.

MCMILLAN.—Robert McMillan died at his home in Brownstown Wednesday morning July 12 aged about 74 years. Funeral Thursday afternoon.

Splendid Meeting.

The summer session of the farmers institute at Fox's grove Wednesday drew an unusually large crowd. One of those present said to the REPUBLICAN that Prof. Latta pronounced it the banner institute up to the present time. Among the speakers was the Rev. Dr. G. W. Shields, of this city, and his address greatly pleased the audience. The managers feel very much gratified over the success of this summer meeting.

Jacob W. Holton, of Henryville, has been elected superintendent of the Salem schools to succeed L. D. Coffman who goes to Connorsville.

WHEAT ACREAGE

Not Less Than The Average in Indiana.

D. M. Getting, deputy state statistician, in an interview about the new wheat crop says:

"We were surprised when we footed up the reports of the acreage of wheat in Indiana this year. It showed an acreage 30 per cent larger than last year. It was the popular opinion among grain men and millers that it was no larger if it really was as large as last year."

"At first we estimated the average yield this year at fifteen bushels per acre. It begins to look like we were going to be surprised on this estimate too. From threshing reports at hand it begins to look like the average yield this year over the state will be at least eighteen bushels, the heaviest average in ten years. This would make the total 1905 crop about 29,000,000 bushels, the largest since 1902."

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Agent C. C. Frey was able to be at his office a little while this morning.

Brakeman Ferd Green went to Sparksville today on account of the serious illness of his father David N. Green. Mr. Green had the third stroke of paralysis yesterday and has been unconscious since. He has been bedfast for several months.

Seventeen cars were piled up along the right of way of the Southern Indiana railway near Williams Tuesday afternoon and the road was blocked until 8 o'clock this morning, the passenger trains Tuesday evening transferring at the wreck.

Wheat Damp.

Some wheat was threshed today but it is not in good condition yet. It will take a little more sunshine to put it in good order. What was brought in to market today was damper than it should have been.

THINGS THEATRICAL.

Ellis Jeffreys ended her first season in America in Boston recently and is now in London.

George Marion, general stage manager for Henry W. Savage, recently arrived from Europe, where he went to see the attractions in London, Paris and Berlin.

When Messager's operetta "Veronique" is mounted in New York next October probably he will come from Paris to oversee the process and conduct at the first performance.

Frank Daniels introduced a new song in "Sergeant Brud" recently entitled "Look Out For Shay." The song parodies the automobile scorching fever of some modern chauffeurs.

Lillian Russell has finished her tour in "Lady Teazle" and she will remain in and about New York through the summer. She is not on the best of terms with her present managers.

Sothern is not sparing himself in his eagerness to have a repertoire of parts in Shakespeare. He and Miss Marlowe soon begin rehearsals for three Shakespearean plays for next year.

Nance O'Neil, who is on her way to Australia, does not intend to act in America for two years. She will go to the British colonies in the east and probably to South Africa before she returns.

CURIOUS CULLINGS.

An ape of the Breslau zoological garden has been successfully operated on for cataract and is the first of its kind to wear spectacles.

A dog trained for war purposes and attached to a German regiment has "deserted." It made its way into France, where it was arrested.

Marcello, a Manx pedestrian, won a novel wager at Yarmouth, England, recently. He was to walk 5,000 miles and be married in 200 days, and he accomplished the feat.

As a curious effect of the war, the China Review notes, sharks have migrated from the far east to European waters, having been frightened, it is thought, by submarine explosions.

Eight hundred Paris butchers made an excursion to London recently and stayed five hours. They were cordially received. Such excursions are fashionable now on account of the entente cordiale. Several hundred London sewer men recently paid a day's visit to Paris.

TALES OF CITIES.

All the real estate signs in the city of San Jose and for five miles around it have been taken down. They were considered disagreeing.

Albany (N. Y.) records show an increase in the state registration of automobiles in three years from 2,000 to 15,000, chiefly pleasure vehicles.

By an unusual kink in the course of events the town of Stratford, Conn., is credited with three births, three marriages and three deaths for the month of April last.

Graft Lead Grows.

New Albany, Ind., July 13.—Following the suspension of Fireman Beard of the local fire department, the investigation that has been made shows that wholesale graft has been practiced and that the entire company to which Beard was assigned is implicated. Pending future developments the entire department has been suspended. It is probable that other city officers and members of the police force will be investigated.

Unique Fica for Missions.

Wabash, Ind., July 13.—The Ladies' Aid society of the Friends' church, this city, in order to raise funds for furnishing the interior of the edifice now being erected, have rented two town lots on the south side and have planted them to sweet potatoes. The ladies will cultivate the potatoes and sell the product at the highest price obtainable when the crop has matured, turning the proceeds into the church fund.

Came Together on Bridge.

Frankfort, Ind., July 13.—A disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Lake Erie & Western railroad, a mile east of this city. An eastbound freight and a westbound extra crashed on a bridge, both engines being telescoped and demolished. Twenty cars loaded with freight were demolished and one carload of corn was poured into the stream. The engine crews all jumped and escaped without injuries.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

COLONIAL DWELLING.

Of Attractive Modern Design and
Cost Arrangement—Cost, $3,500.
(Copyright, 1905, by Stanley A. Dennis, 214
Broadway, New York.)

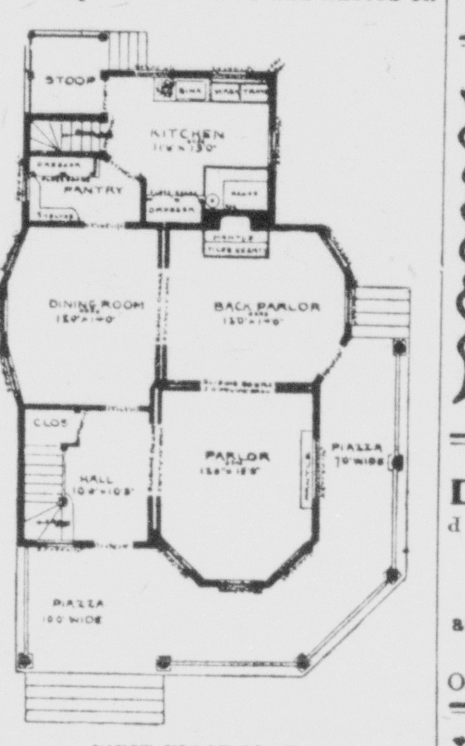

This model home has many special and attractive features. It is designed for a narrow lot, but may be built on a large plot with equally good effects. There is a cellar under the entire house, with eighteen inch stone walls laid in cement mortar. The cellar floor is concrete to a depth of four inches. Coal bins, laundry, storeroom and a steam boiler which heats the whole house are all in the cellar.

The frame is hemlock lumber and timber. The exterior walls are sheathed, ed, papered, sided and shingled. The main roof is covered with clear black slate. The exterior work is clear kiln dried pine and cypress lumber and moldings. The windows, except those of the cellar and the fancy leaded glass one, are fitted with outside blinds with rolling slats and are hung with up to date blind hinges and openers. The exterior woodwork is painted with three coats of pure white lead and linseed oil.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

prints of desired colors. The shingles are dipped in shingle stain before being laid.

The floors are clear No. 1 comb grained North Carolina pine tongued and grooved flooring boards, blind nailed. The interior walls are plastered on spruce laths with two coats of hard patent plaster, sand finished. The trim is ash of special design, finished in the natural wood on the first floor and cypress on the second floor, also finished in the natural wood. The main stairs are quartered oak finished in the natural dark. The hardware is ornamental dark bronze, with rosewood knobs, roses and escutcheons.

The kitchen has a modern range, sink, boiler and closets. The pantry and closets are fitted in modern style.

The bathroom contains open sanitary plumbing and fixtures. The walls of the bathroom are tiled, and the floor is covered with composition tiling, as is the kitchen floor.

This dwelling, the architect says, can be built in many places for $3,500.

Glass Walls.

C. E. Eastman, an Iowa architect, is applying for a patent on a glass outer wall for department stores, office buildings, schools and courthouses. It consists of a steel framework supported by brackets attached to the beams of the floors in duplicate, making two walls of plateless wire glass, the glass being set in the framework. The glass walls are approximately a foot apart, making an insulating dead air space to prevent loss of heat in winter and prevent undue heat in summer. This system of construction allows of any arrangement of floor plan because windows are unnecessary. The exterior will admit of any style of treatment entirely free of the restrictions of fenestration.

New Cases Filed.

Fred S. Williams vs Manufacturers Mutual Fire Insurance Company, venued from Scott county. The demand is for $500. The plaintiff lost a stock of cigars, tobacco, confections etc. by fire. The stock was insured in the above named company and because a chattel mortgage was on the stock, contrary to the provisions of the policy it seems that the company has declined to pay the policy.

John J. Smith has also brought a similar suit against the same insurance company for $500. This case was also venued from Scott.

Kate Bebout has brought suit against Christopher Bebout to annul a marriage contract. They were married in 1903 but did not live together as it developed at once that the defendant had been married before and had not been divorced. He was arraigned for trial but was discharged because the indictment was held bad.

Emma Hughes has brought suit against William Hughes for divorce. She alleges cruel and inhuman treatment. They were married only about three weeks ago.

Capt. Ennis Dead.

Captain D. B. Ennis, died at North Vernon Tuesday night. He was the first Captain of Co. A, 22nd Indiana Regiment and had several comrades in this city.

His brother Leonard was the first Captain of Co. A, but was killed at Rosasa, Georgia. Capt. D. B. succeeded his brother and served until obliged to resign on account of ill health. Captain Thomas W. Ennis, of Madison, then took charge of the Co.

Mrs. Nation Here.

Mrs. Carrie Nation is in the city and will speak at the opera house tonight. Her opposition to the liquor traffic is pronounced and she will deal with that subject tonight in her characteristic way. She will doubtless draw a large crowd.

The statement of John B. Cockrum, general counsel for the Lake Erie & Western Railway company, before the state board of tax commissioners that his company has lost $148,000 of local passenger business in Indiana during the last year owing to the competition of the interurban roads has again called attention to the great growth of the electric lines. In nearly every instance where they parallel steam roads they have taken practically all of the latter's local passenger business, and the reports, it is said, will soon show that they are cutting deeply into the local freight business.

Editors at French Lick. French Lick, Ind., July 13.—Preparations are being made for the arrival of the Democratic editors of Indiana, whose annual meeting will convene here this evening. Advance reports show that there will be at least 100 editors present, and they will be accompanied by their wives in many instances. The program for the meeting includes many papers that will be of interest and profit to the editors. The entertainment of the pencil pushers and sentiment molders will be looked after carefully.

Chance for Policy Holders. New York, July 13.—The reduction in salaries is only the first of a series of schemes Mr. Morton has in mind for reducing the expenses of the Equitable and working force, it was said by those in touch with him. It will be followed by reforms in several of the departments, notably the agency department, which the chairman is investigating now. Uniform rates of commission will be figured out for the soliciting agents, it is thought, with a probable reduction for the general agents.

The Wife Escaped. Lagrange, Ind., July 13.—Will Leberenz, merchant of Elmhurst, this county, killed himself after making a futile attempt to shoot his wife.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Child Not Expected to Live from One Hour to Another, but Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey, of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by C. W. Milbous.

CONSIDER THIS OUTING To Famous Seashore Resorts, in Planning Your Vacation.

By far the most attractive trip for health and pleasure the coming vacation season is that offered by the Seashore excursion Thursday, August 18th, over Pennsylvania Lines to Atlantic City. Cape May and seven other famous summer havens on the Atlantic Coast.

The fast through train over Pennsylvania Lines takes passengers in a few hours out of the heat and humidity of summer to the cool breezes of old ocean. This mid-August excursion occurs in the season for rest when it is most convenient to leave business. Excursionists have the added pleasure of seeing Atlantic City when it is in full tide of the fashionable season. The greatest representative gatherings ever known at any resort are seen at Atlantic City. As many as 50,000 people at one time promenade the famous boardwalk. The fashionable bathing hour presents an unparalleled scene—fully 100,000 bathers in the sea and on the beach.

Special low fares will be in effect for this Seashore excursion. Further information will be freely given by local ticket agents of the Pennsylvania Lines.

TO THE MODERN OLYMPUS Excursions Over Pennsylvania Lines to Immense Tournament of 3,000 Athletes.

For the $25,000 festival in Indianapolis the week of June 21st, excursion tickets will be sold via Pennsylvania Lines June 20th to 23rd inclusive, at one-way fare for the round trip, plus 25 cents. Day and night pageants, historic spectacular representations, athletic exhibitions and contests between teams from Germany, Italy, Holland and possibly Japan are on the program for this important meeting of the North American Gymnastic Union.

For particulars apply to local ticket agents of Pennsylvania Lines.

TRAMPLED THE FLAG

Canadian Mob Tears Stars and Stripes to Tatters.

London, Ont., July 13.—An American flag was torn down from in front of the city hall here and trampled under a hundred feet as the result of a remark made by an American visitor at the Orangemen's demonstration. About 800 Americans came over from Michigan yesterday and carried the stars and stripes through the streets without unfavorable comment being excited. Last night the Americans were gathered in front of a hotel, when someone cried, "To hell with Canada, she never showed us yet." Instantly the American flag owned by the Port Huron, Mich., lodge was torn from where it waved in the breeze and was ripped into shreds and trampled under the feet of an angry mob. Port Huron Orangemen say they did not resent it, as they believed the insult to Canada was uncalculated.

SIGN OF CONFIDENCE

Japanese Loan Oversubscribed Many Times.

New York, July 13.—The subscription lists for the imperial Japanese government 4 1/2 per cent sterling loans, second series, were closed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the National City bank and the National Bank of Commerce and agents throughout the country at the close of business yesterday. The bankers had announced that the lists, which were opened Tuesday, would be closed on or before July 17. The applications were so heavy, however, from all over the country that it was soon seen that the $50,000,000 of bonds allotted to the United States had been heavily oversubscribed and it was decided to limit the taking of subscriptions to a single day.

Suggests a Remedy.

Portland, Ore., July 13.—Adulteration of foods and now to prevent it was discussed at the National Food and Dairy convention. R. M. Allen of Kentucky, secretary of the convention, presented his subject, "The Label," as the solution of the adulteration problem, believing that if manufacturers were forced by law to put on the labels the exact constituents of their food products, and people could thus buy pure or adulterated food as they desired, the evils of food adulteration would be eliminated.

Attempted Train Wrecking.

Cincinnati, July 13.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to wreck the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton passenger train which left here at 8:45 o'clock last night for Chicago. At a curve near North Elmwood, twelve miles north of here, a railroad tie was found fastened to the track. Engineer Isaac Stricker discovered the tie in time to stop the engine, and no damage was done. It is not known who placed the obstruction on the track, or the motive for doing so. The police are investigating.

Posse Get Highwayman.

Winfield, Kan., July 13.—Two highwaymen who, at Cedarville, shot and killed J. C. Calhoun of Kansas City, a special agent of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway, were surrounded by a posse at Hewins, near the Oklahoma line, and shot and killed.

AFTER A COOL SPOT

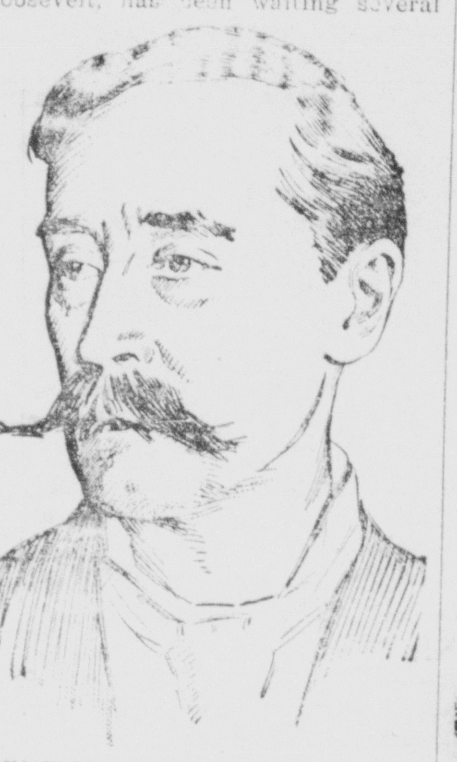

Peary Starts Out On Another Quest For the North Pole.

THE SHIP ROOSEVELT

If There Is Anything in a Name Dauntless Explorer Will Have Success This Time.

Difficulties in Equipping the Vessel Have Finally Been Overcome.

New York July 13.—With $35,000 subscribed yesterday toward his expedition to reach the North Pole, Robert E. Peary announces that he will sail this week for the North. Commander Peary's new Arctic ship, the Roosevelt, has been waiting several days for supplies which could not be bought on account of lack of funds.

The Polar expedition, which has been in preparation since Oct. 15, 1904, has cost $150,000, including yesterday's subscriptions. The entire amount has been donated by American business men to the Peary Arctic club, whose members are anxious that none but Americans have any hand in this polar expedition. Morris K. Jessup, president of the club, subscribed $25,000 yesterday and Thomas H. Hubbard gave a check for $10,000.

Mrs. Peary will probably sail with the explorer. From here the Roosevelt will proceed to Sydney, Cape Breton, where the New York crew will give up the ship to a picked crew which is already waiting on the Erik, a coal ship which will accompany the Roosevelt to latitude 79. The Erik will then return south, bringing Mrs. Peary with her.

A NEW SWINDLE

Young Woman School Teacher's Savings Gobbled Up.

Chicago, July 13.—George Wallace of Cincinnati, whose real name, according to the police, is Louis Adams, was arrested here charged with swindling Miss Alice Campbell, a school teacher, out of $1,000. Miss Campbell told the police that she lived outside of Chicago, but she refused to further reveal her identity. According to her story she answered an advertisement calling for an educated woman to take a position of trust in a bank. By appointment she met Wallace and as a preliminary to accepting the position gave him in trust $1,000 as a cash bond. After paying Wallace the money Miss Campbell became suspicious. The arrest of Wallace followed.

EDITOR MUST ANSWER

New York Press in Disfavor With New York Legislature.

Albany, N. Y., July 13.—A sensational turn was given to the joint session of the state legislature, which is investigating charges against Supreme Court Justice Warren B. Hooker, when John B. Stanchfield made an appeal on behalf of Justice Hooker from the inferences contained in an article in the New York Press, charging that "both politics and hoodlums are at work to keep Justice Hooker on the supreme court bench." On motion of Senator Raines, Republican leader in the senate, Lieutenant Governor Bruce ordered the issuance of a subpoena for Edwin Wardman, editor of the Press, for his appearance before the joint assembly.

Stole Wagon Load of Hams. Evansville, Ind., July 13.—Smith Eakin, waivered at Robards, Ky., was arrested here. It is charged that he broke into three farm houses last Sunday night and hauled away a wagon load of hams valued at over $1,000. He will not return without requisition papers.

Stepped in Front of Train. Lawrenceburg, Ind., July 13.—An unknown white boy, about eighteen years old, while walking on the Big Four railway tracks in this city, stepped in front of a freight train on another track and was torn to pieces by a passenger train.
